There are over 160 mobile zoo businesses in the UK using thousands of animals. The industry is virtually unregulated, so the animals are very vulnerable

Reptiles and other exotic animals may transfer illness or disease to your child

Animal welfare concerns

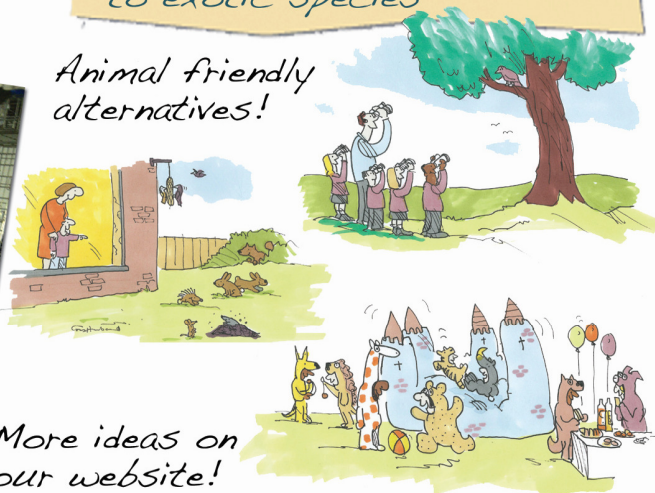

In late 2013, a mobile zoo company owner was convicted of 34 animal welfare offences. The animals were being kept in awful conditions. Because mobile zoo companies are not inspected or checked, many more animals may be suffering.

Travelling and handling is stressful for animals

Exotic animals spend long hours travelling up and down the country to be used in mobile zoo events. Travelling and handling can be very stressful for animals; particularly those belonging to exotic species

Animal friendly alternatives!
